[No. 5236.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS. This Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons is adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak in favour of a medicine than which no other of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, at the earlier stages of those diseases, its use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases deemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and could be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

ON the night of the 16th inst. my negro man JOHN, or JOHN ALLEN, (as he calls himself)—he is well known, having lived with me for several years, and has travelled a good deal with me. He is a very plausible fellow, about 30 years of age, slender made, and about 5 feet 5 inches high, rather of a yellow complexion, but the complete negro mouth and nose—has a small scar on one of his cheeks—has lately had a sore on his right leg, directly on the shin bone, which leg has the appearance of being much scorched at a former period by disease or the small pox. His hat was made and stamped by Rogers of Baltimore. A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county of Alexandria, 20 if in the county of Washington or Fairfax, 50 if in Baltimore or state of Maryland, and 100 if in Philadelphia or the state of Pennsylvania, and in like proportion if at any other places, with all reasonable charges for bringing him here and securing him in jail. Fan-Sash Making.
METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town. JAMES T. HOLLAND. February 19

Proposals
FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of

Universal History Americanised;
Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.

BY DAVID RAMSAY, M. D. "Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence." Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS. ASIA. The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvian—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.
The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Physical States, and the Hottentots, with a group view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.
The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.
The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time. The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes; of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Calf Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.
This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned orientalis—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.
The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U. States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither bookellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble—but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex; to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

REFLECTIONS ON THE WESTERN COUNTRY.

Mr. Printer,

After what has been said in the first number as to the probable formation of the earth, it might reasonably be expected that the author would proceed on to give his conjectures respecting the formation of man, or the origin of what is called animate nature; but here all probable, philosophical theory ends, and we are obliged, as a dernier resort, to have recourse to revelation.

But, improbable as any thing may appear without this light, let us try how it may be accounted for by philosophy. Reason will disarm error of its shafts; therefore the enquiry will not tend to demoralize; but may produce a spirit of investigation.

Then, let us suppose, that after a part of the earth arose from its watery bed, the influence of the sun extracted from it the latent principles of animation, till then chemically combined with inert matter. Insects crawled, birds flew, and man majestically walked, as lord of the new creation. Our next enquiry would be, what gave man this pre-eminence? The answer will be, the more complete texture of his formation.—Vested with more senses, susceptible of longer existence, and having a brain sufficiently capacious for a reservoir of a greater portion of that ethereal fluid, which we will here call the soul of the universe. The enquiry which will next strike the mind is to know, what this fluid is? We will answer electricity. Now, this will require modifications as to the term, and an immense field opens to show the regions which it invades. The electricity of the atmosphere, by passing into the lungs with oxygen gas, must necessarily undergo some change or admixture; for the nervous chords do not appear to be proper conductors of electricity; yet we can conceive no other substance sufficiently quick to its action to move a distant member from the sensorium in the twinkling of an eye; and it is as probable that oxygen can modify the electrical fluid, as that electrical sparks can assist in its oxydizing other substances. This gives us the capacity of comparing external objects; it is the principle of each sense—in short, the mind. No doubt, this fluid filled our nervous tubes, whilst in utero; but then we were not presented with external objects—of course, no impressions were made. If I might be permitted to make a comparison here, I would compare the body to a wind instrument, in which it acted on by the stimuli of the mind, or till stimulated by external objects, conveyed through the medium of the senses, and modified by the ethereal fluid which pervades our system. We are charmed with the melodious sound of a flute; whilst in the hands of a skilful musician: but break the instrument, and it is merely a piece of inorganic matter, unfit for use: so with our bodies—we can reason, act, &c. as long as the stimuli of electricity acts, in a peculiar way on our organization, producing that consequence called mind; but as in the flute, destroy the texture, or stop the avenues leading to the sensorium, and what are we? Matter devoid of mind. It is not to be supposed, that this fluid, or its influence, is peculiar to man. The meanest reptile which crawls on the earth, receives a portion adapted to its capacity; though perhaps, in an inferior degree—and owing to the shortness of their lives, they cannot reason from cause to effect—and owing to their want of powers, they cannot convey the ideas received through the medium of their contracted senses. Yet it will not do to say, that any part of the animal creation is devoid of mind.

But after the dissolution of the body, what becomes of the mind, or that modified electricity, which gives us perception, thought, consciousness? I will answer, returns to the general mass, to be appropriated according to contingencies, or fortuitously. This will lead to the doctrine of universal mind, which we may either call, soul of the universe, ethereal fluid, or simply electricity. This substance, we presume, pervades all matter. In our system, emanating from the sun, together with the particles of light, and attracting caloric from the different planets, in proportion to their diameters and distances—and being reconveyed to its source by the comets, which act as postillions to this luminary, by returning with tails surcharged with this matter, and flying away as another planet. If, according to late discoveries, the sun be surrounded with two atmospheres, the first similar to our own, but the second which surrounds it, formed of phosphorescent and electrical matter, which gives it its luminous appearance; by constantly emitting these, it would, in time, become exhausted, and the planets be too much charged with the ethereal fluid, did not the comets return a similar portion to what is emitted. How many wild conjectures have been formed, as to the comets falling into the body of the sun, to increase or keep up its heat, as though it needed such fuel, or as though these, themselves, would not in time, be exhausted, and leave us in utter darkness, when the lamp of heaven became extinguished. Mind, or the matter of electricity may then be arranged into universal and particular. Universal as it relates to the universe, and particular as it enters animal matter, and forms consciousness. That the universal mass has a consciousness peculiar to itself, and a perception capacious in proportion as the whole is, to the small part which we enjoy, seems more than probable: and were it not for the lights of the gospel, which teach us truths through a different channel than that of natural reasoning, I should adopt this, as my philosophical creed.

Every climate seems to have a race of animals peculiar to itself, or some that are not common to other parts—even man partakes of very different features and color, in the same latitude in different parts of the world.—This would argue that they are the creatures of the soil on which they live—that every part, together with its power of producing vegetable, had likewise that of producing animal life—and that both existed in a latent state from all eternity, or long previous to order being established in the universe—that the most delicate parts of organized matter is as much a component part of earth, as a grain of sand, only that it possesses over this, for a short time, the principle of animation, and is susceptible of mind, from its peculiar organization.

The worm that burrows in the ground; the bird that flies in the air, and the animal which stalks on the surface of the ground are only organized parts of earth, which organization gives them reasoning, volition and consciousness, according to their capacities for receiving the ethereal fluid of the universal mind, through the medium of their senses; accordingly the animal is sagacious in proportion to the senses given, the length of time they enjoy them, and the examples shewn them by seniors. As some animals have short lives, few senses, and little instruction, they, of course, are restricted in knowledge; yet habit and a small degree of reasoning power, enables them to fill an inferior station in existence, with satisfaction to themselves and interest to the general welfare.

The universal mind wills all this—our minds are parts of this universal intelligence; though restricted in proportion to the smallness of the quantity we receive, and only capable of reasoning from comparison—wanting the omnipresence of the whole, and the time requisite for drawing perfectly correct conclusions. Besides, the chemical admixture of earthy particles, with the ethereal fire, must cloy that clearness of perception, which we may suppose it to inherit in the uncombined state.

TYPHUS FEVER.

A person who has had considerable experience in his own family, and in others, of the typhus fever, recommends as a preventive to any one who may suppose that he has been exposed to the infection, to drink at night, on going to bed, a pint of a strong decoction of wormwood, and another pint two hours before breakfast the following morning, taking care to avoid cold in the course of the day.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

We were last night favored with a Liverpool paper of April 17, the latest received by Captain Brown.

It is asserted, on unquestionable authority, that there is in London a messenger from the French government to Petion, acknowledging the independence of all Hayti.

A new stock is created in England at 8 1/2 per cent. irredeemable for 10 years to be subscribed 1000 3 per cents, and 111 cash, for each 1000. Much had been subscribed—only 40,000,000 will be taken. The new stock is now at 90 to 92.

The possible return of the British army from France has been mentioned by ministers in parliament, but it is made to depend on the French government, and people satisfying all the just claims on them.

A bill is before the British parliament to consolidate the import and export duties. At present exports to European countries and to the United States pay one half per cent. ad. val. To all other parts, even British colonies, one per cent. The new law proposes to place them all at three quarters of a per cent., which, of course, raises those to the U. States.

It is recommended that vessels should only pay the tonnage duty in proportion to the number of tons of freight they may have.

On the 15th Lord Castlereagh, in consequence of a message from the Prince Regent, brought forward a proposition in the House of Commons for some further provision for the dukes of Clarence and Cambridge, on their intended marriage, the former with a princess of Saxe-Meiningen, and the latter with a princess of Hesse. A proposition to reduce the amount was carried against ministers by a vote of 193 to 184.

A law has been passed by the British parliament reducing and limiting the number of hours that children shall be required to labor in manufactories where they are employed, and providing for their instruction. An attempt is also making to lessen the number of hours which adults shall be required to labor, and to prevent children from being hired till they are 12 years of age.

The British revenue for the quarter ending April 5, 1817, was 9,510,211— for the quarter ending April 5, 1818, 10,474,307 1/2.

The Esquimaux Indian who was in England, and went in the arctic expedition, astonished the natives by his exploits in his canoe. On the 30th of March, Lord Castlereagh, Lord Yarmouth, the Bishops of Winchester and Oxford, Mr. Croker, and several other persons of distinction, and about 10,000 other spectators, collected at Deptford to see his performances, but he got intoxicated and out of temper, and neither threats, intreaties nor offers of great reward, could induce him to do any thing to gratify their curiosity—and they had to return to their homes completely disappointed.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Every account we have from Georgia gives a more gloomy certainty to the worst features of the deplorable destruction of the Chehaw Town. The Georgia troops, on their return from Jackson's camp, passed through the ruins of this settlement. See the account which general Glascock sketches of this horrible transaction. It already appears that two of our fellow citizens have fallen victims to the momentary phrenzy produced by it on the Indian mind. To arrest this spirit of revenge, the Indian Agent (Gen. Mitchell) is about to convene the Creek Indians, to give them a Talk upon the matter, and to offer a suitable recompense for the property destroyed. We completely agree with the Georgia Journal, "that the officer who commanded the expedition should be forthwith tried by a military tribunal."

Milledgeville, May 12.

Extract of a letter from Gen. Glascock, commanding the detachment of Georgia Militia, lately in service, to the Editors of this paper, dated Hartford, May 2, 1818.

"I am happy to inform you that my command has safely arrived at this place having encountered difficulties almost insurmountable. The object of the expedition being accomplished, we were permitted to return via Micksakie, having no meat on hand it was all-important to make a forced march to Fort-Early; the men were called upon to know whether they were willing to risk their themselves upon what corn they had, which amounted to about six days rations; it was determined that they were. We therefore, on the 20th of April, took the line of march, on arriving at Micksakie, a number of men were almost worn out with fatigue and hunger. Providence it appeared, smiled upon us; our Pilot, who was an Indian, observing a small trail, pursued it for some distance, and arrived at a hut which had not been discovered on our advance. It contained 50 or 60 bushels of corn; every countenance, which had but a few moments before been marked with despair, was completely brightened; a spirit of animation flashed throughout the line; but it proved only temporary, for when arriving near the ferry opposite Chehaw, where we expected a plentiful supply of beef, information reached us that the Chehaw village was destroyed, and that it could not be procured. Never were my feelings more shocked than they were on the receipt of this news. My adjutant, Major Robinson, who was in our advance with a small detachment of men for the purpose of supplying provisions, sent a runner to get the Indians, who from fear were lying out, to come in, assuring them they would receive protection. Five of them were prevailed upon to do so, and on my arrival at the river, I found them there and obtained from them 24 head of cattle, but for which many of my command would not have been able to reach Fort-Early under 4 or 5 days, having suffered so materially from hunger.

To say more to you than I have already said on the subject of the friendship of the Indians in the Chehaw town, appears to me almost useless. If ever there was a transaction calculated to blast the reputation of the state and throw a shade of censure on an officer, it is the destruction of that town, and the circumstances relating thereto. I have had an interview with the officer commanding Fort-Early (captain Bothwell), and his Lieut. Mr. Jones, who was present at the massacre, as well as with some of the Indians; and from what comes within my own knowledge, I have no hesitation in saying it is an unwarrantable act. What permit me to ask, must be the feelings of every individual when informed, that in passing through that town, we not only obtained a large quantity of supplies for the use of the army, but had to leave some of our sick under the protection of these very people; and that 49 out of about 50 of that particular town, were regularly mustered into the service of the United States, and have been and were rendering important services at the time their property was destroyed, and in all probability some of their nearest relations murdered. In fact, it has been represented from a source which admits of no doubt, that one of the Indians from Fort Scott who was on furlough, was killed in the affair; Major Howard, an Indian whose friendship was never before doubted—an Indian who in the most hazardous time accompanied Major Woodward to Fort Gaines; he, even after the firing and murder commenced, conscious of his friendship, stepped from within his doors, in front of the line, with the flag of friendship; it was not respected; a general fire was made; he fell, and was bayoneted. If such acts as these be tolerated, security can never be given to our frontiers unless there be a general extermination.

Already has the life of one man been forfeited. Three men who were left at Fort Scott sick, obtained a furlough, and not being apprised of the destruction of the town, passed through the place. On arriving at the river, one of them in obtaining a canoe for the purpose of crossing, was killed; the other two immediately returned; one of them only has arrived—it is apprehended the other is lost.—On my arrival at Fort-Early, finding that no express had been sent on, I immediately procured one and have sent it to Fort Scott, apprising the commanding officer of that post of the circumstance, and guarding him against suffering his men to come off in such parties; an express has also been sent on to general Jackson and general Gaines.

Plaster Land.
THE subscriber offers for sale two FARMS, being part of the tract whereon he resides, in Fauquier county, Virginia. One of these farms contains 600 acres, one half, at least, of which, is in wood—the other contains 450 acres, upwards of one-third of which is in wood—on the latter are a commodious overseer's house, a new barn, stables, corn houses, and negro quarters, and about 20 acres of well improved timothy meadow. The woodland on both of these farms is covered with a fine growth of red oak and hickory, and the soil, which is denominated first-rate tobacco land—the whole of the cleared land is under good enclosures, has had the advantage of a clover lay, and has afforded as strong evidences of its adaptation to the Plaster of Paris, as any land in the state. No land is better watered; both farms being bounded by Broad Run, and having (besides other springs) a never failing stream mill run passing through their centre.

LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions; feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small saw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Taenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of

BILIOUS and MALARIAL FEVER.

is recommended

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further,

that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious

in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back

Loss of appetite Indigestion
